Located in the Fitzgibbons Building on the first level of the Monroe Professional Center Condominium, Unit 112 is a fully developed restaurant with seating for up to 50 people. As pictured, an additional 537 usable square feet of Unit 111 is attached to Unit 112. This added square footage is accessible from Unit 112 through a doorway from the kitchen. Unit 112 exits directly to the Fitzgibbons Building atrium lobby.

The Fitzgibbons Building is rich in local history. It is all that remains of the Fitzgibbons Brothers buggy works, a manufacturer of buggies in the late 1800s and early 1900s. One of Monroe's most infamous fires destroyed about 60% of the original building on August 28, 1948. The present building was saved and completely renovated in 1999 with a new passenger elevator and new plumbing, electrical and HVAC. The original brick and stone walls remain intact, a feature that is emphasized in Unit 112.
